Debbie Miller taught and learned from children in The Denver Public Schools for thirty years. Author of Reading with Meaning: Teaching Comprehension in the Primary Grades, (Stenhouse, 2002) and the video series, Happy Reading! She also has videos titled The Joy of Conferencing, and Literacy Attendance, both published by Stenhouse. Debbie now presents workshops and works extensively with schools and districts on long-range planning and development of literacy programs. She worked many years with the Denver-based Public Education and Business Coalition (PEBC), a non-profit group committed to providing ongoing support and leadership for schools in the Denver area and nationally. Debbie also has been an adjunct professor at The University of Denver and Regis University. She lives in Littleton, Colorado with her husband, Don. They have two grown sons, Noah and Chad.

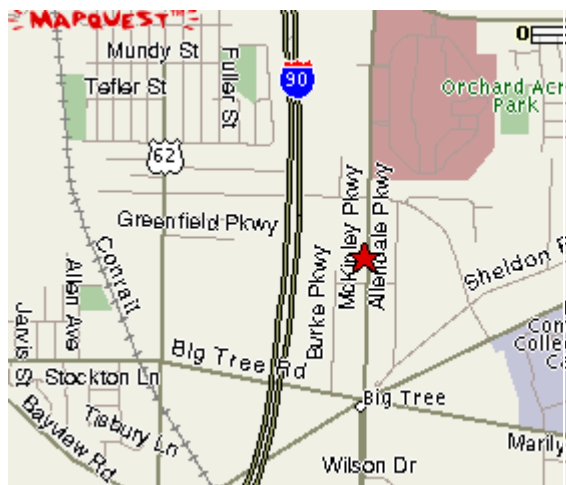

Robin Pulver is the author of a number of children's picture books. Axle Annie (a Smithsonian Notable Book and Nest Literary Classic), about the best school bus driver in Burskyville, was joined in 2005 by Axle Annie and The Speed Grump, an excellent choice for school bus safety week. Other books include the popular, Mrs. Toggle series, The Holiday Handwriting School, Nobody's Mother Is In Second Grade, Way To Go Alex! and Alicia's Tutu. The author's stories and articles have been published in magazines such as CRICKET, SPIDER, and HIGHLIGHTS FOR CHILDREN. A native of upstate New York, Robin and her husband Don, lived in Oregon, Idaho, Ohio, and Zambia, East Africa, before settling down in Pittsford, New York, with their two children, Nina and David, now grown.
